4 The sustainable development strategy of economy ecological area embrace Poyang Lake

4.1 Aim at the needs of conference and exhibition market and conference and exhibition enterprise to cultivate professional conference and exhibition economy talents

We should combine academic education with the training of professional skills, beginning from various links of conference and exhibition, providing focused guiding for the students, strengthening the student’s professionalism and using simulative experiments, to cultivate the student to be a man with the management capabilities about the project, themes, investment, exhibition, budget, management and resources of the conference and exhibition.

4.2 Build nests to attract phoenixes, attract the headquarters of multinational companies to
We should learn from foreign advanced management concept to build central business district, serve for attracting a number of multinational companies stationing in and introducing in investigation and stay of the internationally renowned companies in the economy ecological area embrace Poyang Lake. Aiming at the regular and occasional national exhibitions and expositions, we should make full use of resource advantages to carefully nurture a conference and exhibition brands embrace Poyang Lake, and to vigorously promote the "conference and exhibition economy."

4.3 Take use of logistics parks and college ground to extend economy of conference and exhibition

In the recent years, economy ecological area embrace Poyang Lake has been deluged with projects of conference and exhibition, involving trade, tourism, business, food, home design, building materials, agriculture, real estate, advertising, medicine, clothing, information industry and other aspects, and most of these were held in Jiangxi exhibition hall and Nanchang international exhibition center. East China International Industry Fair uses Qingyunpu industrial and logistics park in Nanchang to alleviate the shortage of exhibition space. There are still some problems in the economy ecological area embrace Poyang Lake, such as the quality is not satisfied, most are medium exhibitions, brand and large-scale conference and exhibitions are few. We should strive to hold the international project of conference and exhibition in virtue of the International brand of conference and Exhibition Center. In this regard, we should take distinctive conference and exhibition as the goal, relying on the industrial advantages and characterized location, and regarding various forms of meetings, exhibitions and large-scale events, concerts and festivals as carrier,

5 Conclusion
In this century, accompanied by the rapid economic development of Jiangxi Province, industry of conference and exhibition has entered an active period of market and the fast lane of development. However, compared with economy of conference and exhibition in the other province, industry of conference and exhibition in Jiangxi is on a small scale with poor quality. Many conferences and exhibitions are in the low level. Some have a title of "international conference and exhibition", but actually are nominal. At present, there are more than 30 companies of conference and exhibition in Nanchang. Among them there are few companies with the capacity of holding independent exhibition and the number of exhibition booth is less than 100 . We must cultivate and the introduce professionals especially versatile personnel, upgrade the scale and the level of professional exhibition company to improve the overall level of conference and exhibition.

Exhibition hall, is the basis of economic development for conference and exhibition. If there is no considerable scale and supporting facilities of the exhibition hall, it would be very difficult to create influential exhibition brands. The location and layout of Exhibition hall has great significance on exhibition efficiency, exhibition effect, which brings economic benefit into play after conference and exhibition, and coordinating development of conference and exhibition. In the aspect of facilities in economy ecological area embrace Poyang Lake, there exists big gap not only in comparing with "Big Three" --Shanghai, Beijing, Guangzhou, but also in comparison with the neighboring provinces and cities.

Nanchang International Exhibition Center, which is the only modern, professional and international exhibition center, completed in Jiangxi Province in 2006. It has a total area of 180,000 square meters, including 77,000 square meters building area, 10 million square meters of outdoor exhibition space and 5 million square meters of indoor exhibition hall and conference area which are in use. But there is still no International conference and exhibition Center in the real sense, so it is very urgently to build a regional conference center. In Jiangxi Province, "Eleventh Five-Year" Plan proposed: following the accelerated trend of people, logistics, information flow, we should accelerate to develop economy of conference and exhibition, advertising display services, actively develop content services of information, technology services of information, network services of information, and other modern information service industry. Under the supervision of government departments, we should improve the trade law, avoid duplication of exhibition, waste of resources, and vicious competition, and strengthen the supervision of conference and exhibition in order to provide a good environment for the development of conference and exhibition in the economy ecological area embrace Poyang Lake.
