

Abstract

Towards a "Queer Union" of Marxism and feminism?

Cinzia Aruzza

The author addresses the debate that remains open on the controversial relationship between Feminism and Marxism. Is a union possible between Marxism and Feminism? Looking to take the discussion beyond the Anglo-Saxon borders, it gives clues for discussion and research on the "queer marriage" between Marxism and Feminism, which could contribute to the end of the divorce between Feminism and social movements, or rather to (re)unite the struggle for the liberation of women with class content.

Keywords: Feminism. Marxism. Patriarchy. Social Class.
